

EXECUTIVE BOARD WELCOMES NEW TRUSTEES

Maria White

Keith Fisher

By Sharon Dunoski
 Trustee

The Toledo Craftsman's Guild would like to welcome two new trustees, Maria White and Keith Fisher, to the Executive Board. As trustees, they will be responsible for a program at a general meeting, help mentor new Members to the Guild, and numerous other duties.

MARIA WHITE has been married to her husband, Bill, for 31 years. She has 3 children: Ashley, Kathryn and Scott. She has been a Member of the Guild for 2 years.

Maria was first introduced to The Toledo Craftsman's Guild by her good friend, Kelly Haynes (Treasurer Sue Haynes' daughter) in 1980 when she would observe Sue sewing for Guild shows. After college, Maria moved from Toledo for 27 years. Maria was looking for a craft she could take while traveling for her "real" job.

She started her jewelry business upon returning to the Perrysburg area 7 years ago. Maria remembered Sue, attended a Guild show, and decided to apply for membership. The craft of jewelry is very broad, and Maria has narrowed her craft to Swarovski Crystal and wire wrapped jewelry. She has a signature item called Maria's Sparkles Necklace, which is hand crocheted wire with six different types of stones in it. She also makes rings, bracelets, earrings, and recently added crystal sun catchers. She loves anything that sparkles. Her art is a combination of self-teaching and classes. She was first hooked on jewelry after making her first pair of earrings. Taking a Swarovski Crystal Cruise, she had the opportunity to study with internationally known teachers and designers. She has been on two Swarovski Cruises since and has taken numerous classes as well. A most memorable experience was meeting Lillian Chen, the designer and Swarovski Crystal Ambassador who designed the first pair of earrings Maria made!!

Maria's interests do not stop at jewelry creations. She loves to sew and has sewn curtains, bed spreads, and many pillows. She has made fountains, scrapbooked, hand stamped cards, arranged flowers, and loves to garden.

As a professional for 35 years, Maria has worked for 10 plus years in large corporations (VP of Human Resources for a Chicago-based company), then ran a small business owned by someone else for almost 20 years. She now owns her own business, called "Inclusivity," which focuses on helping people value and appreciate differences of all kinds. Inclusivity does consulting and training for large corporations. Over the past 30 years, Maria has personally trained and coached more than 10 Fortune 500 CEOs and many senior leaders in corporate America.

In her "off" time, Maria enjoys reading many books, recently finishing "Me Before You" by JoJo Moyes. A couple of her favorite local restaurants are LaScola and Poco Piatti.

KEITH FISHER has been married to his wife, Brenda, for 27 years. They have 2 daughters: Kelsey and Sara. Keith has been a Member for 2 years, taking great interest in the Guild by attending general meetings during that time.

Keith began participating in local craft shows 5 years ago. He was introduced to the Guild by numerous friends who are also Members. After attending numerous Guild events at the Stranahan Hall and Lucas Recreation Center (now Line Drive Sports), he decided to apply for membership to The Toledo Craftsman's Guild as another selling outlet.

Keith began learning his wood craft when he was young but became seriously involved when he began teaching Industrial Arts at Gibsonburg Schools. He taught Drafting, Woodworking, Furniture Making, Sheet Metal and Welding. Upon his departure from Gibsonburg, Keith became Library Media Coordinator at Cardinal Stritch High School in Oregon, then was the K-12 Library Media Coordinator at the Port Clinton City Schools for 25 years. In his time at the schools, Keith worked behind the scenes with the school drama productions. Port Clinton had built a performing arts center when he was also the Technical Director. They produced numerous school plays and musicals along with hosting many "big name" entertainers. He got a chance to build sets, hang lights, and provide sound support for the many shows.

Keith's Library Media responsibilities grew as he created a TV Studio and a cable channel within the community. He was able to secure a donation of an old set from NBC24 in Toledo to begin the development of a TV production curriculum and reconstructed what was donated.

As a result, Keith produced over 1,000 hours of TV programming. His students won awards for their work, and a number of students have gone on to various media and TV occupations both regionally and in California.

Keith's interests also extend to photography for which he has won several awards as well as teaching. He has also taken classes in a variety of stained glass art work. Four years ago he began the sport of curling, having played in California, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, and Ontario. (And, yes, he is the man who wore the "wild curling" slacks at the Recreation Center and Lourdes Shows on a dare.)

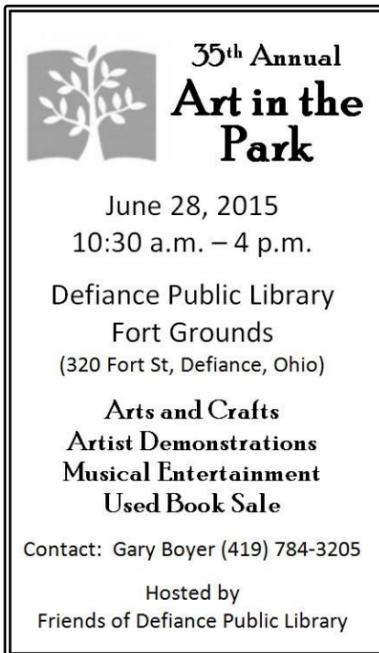

The Toledo Craftsman's Guild is very happy to have both Maria and Keith participate as trustees on the Executive Board. They will bring many ideas and a wealth of expertise from their life experiences.

(Note from the President: Sharon Dunoski (the author of this article) has graciously accepted to stay on the Guild Executive Board as a trustee. Sharon has been on the board for ten years as the secretary, president, and most recently as past president. Her commitment to the Guild by chairing the Lourdes show and working on committees is so greatly appreciated. - Sharon Anderson, President)

Top Trends 2015:
Alice De Souza from DMC
Reveals her Predictions

Compiled by Sharon Anderson
President

Alice De Souza, product manager from DMC, says: "Our trend predictions for 2015 have been based on a lot of research in the marketplace, through in depth discussions with our independent retailers and key accounts, as well as looking closely at magazines, trend predictions, exhibitions and inspiration from the high street.

- "The vintage chic theme is everywhere and includes ultra feminine and glamorous trends with a Parisienne influence. This timeless theme appeals to both the younger and old generation as it is bringing the old in with the new.
- "Heritage and heirlooms for the future offer an everlasting feel to creative crafts with the trend to create something that lasts a lifetime and is passed down through generations, inspiring children and young people to have a go at new crafts and techniques and create a precious piece of artwork that is something to be proud of.

- "Modern bright colorful designs with geometric patterns are a key influence for 2015 with designs that are both simple and effective.
- "Stunning bold floral designs, again in strong colors and styles are something we are seeing more often in everyday life.
- "Another growing trend is wildlife-inspired designs with animals; insects and birds are proving extremely popular on many products for the new season."

Pantone
Color of the Year 2015
~ Marsala ~

Compiled by Sharon Anderson
President

Marsala enriches our mind, body and soul, exuding confidence and stability. Marsala is a subtly seductive shade, one that draws us into its embracing warmth.

Much like the fortified wine that gives Marsala its name, this tasteful hue embodies the satisfying richness of a fulfilling meal while its grounding red-brown roots emanate a sophisticated, natural earthiness. This hearty, yet stylish tone is universally appealing and translates easily to fashion, beauty, industrial design, home furnishings and interiors.

The Versatility of Marsala

- Equally appealing to men and women, Marsala is a stirring and flavorful shade for apparel and accessories, one that encourages color creativity and experimentation

- Flattering against many skin tones, sultry and subtle Marsala is a great go-to color for beauty, providing enormous highlight for the cheek, and a captivating pop of color for nails, shadows lips and hair.
- Dramatic and at the same time grounding, the rich and full-bodied red-brown Marsala brings color warmth into home interiors.
- An earthy shade with a bit of sophistication, texture is the story in print and packaging. A matte finish highlights Marsala's organic nature while adding a sheen conveys a completely different message of glamour and luxury.

The Craftsman's Creed

Author unknown

Submitted by Debi Methvin
Membership Chair

I am a craftsman. I am dedicated to perfecting the art and science of my craft, which I have chosen freely.

I am constantly, relentlessly searching for ways to improve my craft. I am dedicated to learning from the masters who have preceded me in every way I am able.

I create valuable things that other people want or need. I generously offer my work as a gift when it is wise, but my purpose is to help those who value my work enough to pay for what I have to offer. No one has an unlimited claim on my craft, knowledge, or the fruits of my effort. I work for people who value and support me.

I honestly promote what I have to offer, consistently and to the limit of my capabilities. I make no apologies for promoting my craft. I am proud of my work, and it is my duty and responsibility to reach people who may benefit from my craft. I can help them no other way.

I do my best to ensure that every single person who trusts me with their time, attention, or money is happy with their investment. If they are not, I will do whatever is in my power to do right by them without delay.

Skills are a craftsman's credentials. I care more about a person's character, what they know, and what they can do than where they grew up, where they went to school, or how many letters they have after their name.

I choose to work with other craftsmen: people who are skilled, not simply schooled.

I respect other craftsmen, and I generously assist them however I'm able. I have no respect for the fool who searches for a way to enjoy the fruits of labor without effort, or the scoundrel who seeks to enrich himself by deluding others. Value, not wealth or fame, is the true measure of every craftsman.

I take good care of myself. My mind and body are the tools I use to advance my craft, so I take care of them. Rest and recovery are essential to my life: a worn-down tool is of no use at all.

I never stop pushing my limits. I am constantly testing and experimenting with new ways to expand my capabilities. It is my way of life.

I refuse to waste precious time and energy on trivial matters, trivial problems, and trivial people. I choose to focus only on the most important of demands: those that help me advance my craft or take care of the people who depend on me.

The world is an uncertain place, which I cannot fully predict or control. Regardless, I will do everything in my power to prepare for every challenge and weather every storm. Nothing in this world is powerful enough to stop me from continuing to practice my craft.

Anything that I can do to improve my craft, I will do. This will keep me busy until the end of my days: a challenge I gladly accept. I am a craftsman, and always shall be.

Recipe Box

NO BAKE OATMEAL COOKIES

Submitted by Debi Methvin
Membership Chair

Ingredients:
2 cups sugar
4 tablespoons cocoa
1 stick butter
1/2 cup milk
1 cup peanut butter
1 tablespoon vanilla
3 cups oatmeal
Waxed paper

Directions:
In a heavy saucepan bring to a boil, the sugar, cocoa, butter and milk. Let boil for 1 minute then add peanut butter, vanilla and oatmeal. On a sheet of waxed paper, drop mixture by the teaspoonful. Cool until hardened.

WHOLE WHEAT BANANA BREAD

(no added sugar and oil-free)
Submitted by Pamela Lemons
Social Media Chair

Ingredients:
2 cups whole wheat flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup unsweetened applesauce
3/4 cup honey
2 eggs, beaten
3 mashed overripe bananas
1/2 cup chopped walnuts or pecans (optional)
1/2 cup mini chocolate chips (optional, adds sugar)

Directions:
1. Preheat oven to 350F (175C).
2. Lightly grease a 9"x5" loaf pan.
3. In a large bowl, combine flour, baking soda and salt (and chocolate chips and nuts if used).
4. In a separate bowl, mix together applesauce and honey. Stir in eggs and mashed bananas until well blended.
5. Stir banana mixture into flour mixture until just moistened.
6. Pour batter into prepared loaf pan.
7. Bake in preheated oven for 60 to 65 minutes until a toothpick inserted into center of the loaf comes out clean.
8. Let bread cool in pan for 10 minutes, then turn out onto a wire rack to cool.

Makes one 9"x5" loaf.

REFRIGERATOR PIE

Submitted by Ann Marie Young, Jury Chair

Ingredients:
1 pint ice cream (I used strawberry!)
1 small package of instant pudding (Again, I used strawberry!)
1 cup whole milk
1 graham cracker crust

Directions:
1. Soften ice cream in microwave for 10-15 seconds.
2. In a large bowl, mix first three ingredients with a hand mixer until smooth. Pour into the pie crust and chill for 2 hours.
3. Garnish with fresh strawberries and whipped topping.

Use your imagination for many variations of this recipe. You can also make this using low calorie ingredients and it will taste the same.

Baked Chicken Chimichangas

Submitted by Pamela Lemons
Social Media Chair

Ingredients:
8oz pkg. cream cheese, softened
8oz. pepper jack cheese, shredded
1 1/2 T taco seasoning
1 lb. cooked chicken, shredded
8 flour tortillas (8inch size)
Cooking spray

Topping ideas: shredded cheddar cheese, lettuce, green onions, sour cream, black olives, salsa

Directions:
1. Grease a 9"x13" baking dish with cooking spray.
2. Heat oven to 350F.
3. Stir together cream cheese, pepper jack cheese and taco seasoning.
4. Fold in chicken.
5. Divide evenly among flour tortillas.
6. Tuck in sides and roll up each tortilla.
7. Lay seam side down in a prepared baking dish.
8. Spray tops of tortillas with cooking spray.
9. Bake in oven for 15 minutes.
10. Turn chimichangas over and bake an additional 15 minutes.
11. Serve with toppings.

Tips and Ideas:
1. Don't have time to cook and shred chicken? Buy a rotisserie chicken from the store.
2. Cheddar and Mexican blend cheeses can be substituted for the pepper jack cheese.
3. Like spicy food? Finely chop a jalapeño pepper and add it to the chicken mix.

A Look Back to 1975

By Pamela Rohrbacher
Secretary

As The Toledo Craftsman’s Guild prepares to celebrate our 40th year, I thought it might be fun to look back to our first year and see what was happening in 1975.

The average American could expect to live to be 72.9 years old. Now, it is 79.12. The population was 218,035,164. As of 2014, we had reached 317,000,000. Anyone wishing to buy a new home could expect to pay around $45,000. A brand-new Ford Mustang cost $4,105. You can’t even buy a USED one for that price now! Of course, with a median income of about $13,500, $4,000 is all you could afford. Good thing gas was only $0.59 per gallon. Eggs: $0.89 per dozen. Milk: $1.65 per gallon. And stamps...$0.13 each. We will never see THAT again!

1975 saw President Gerald Ford signing a bail-out loan of $2.3 billion to New York City. Spanish Dictator Gen. Francisco Franco dies. Kidnapped heiress Patty Hearst is arrested on armed robbery charges. Ross McWhirter, co-founder of the Guinness Book of World Records is murdered by the IRA. The Vietnam War finally ends.

Born in 1975: Pro Golfer Tiger Woods, Actresses Angelina Jolie and Kate Winslet, and NASCAR Driver Jimmie Johnson.

Big at the box office this year were some movies that have stood the test of time: Jaws, One Flew Over the Cuckoo’s Nest, The Towering Inferno, The Godfather II, and that lovable Benji.

Don’t forget about the music! “Fame” by David Bowie, “Best of My Love” and “One of These Nights,” both by The Eagles, and “Love Will Keep Us Together” by The Captain and Tennille (it didn’t) were huge hits. Some of the popular bands were Aerosmith, Kiss, Led Zeppelin, Tony Orlando and Dawn, John Denver, Glen Campbell, Elton John, and Earth, Wind, and Fire.

Guess what made its debut in 1975? The Bic disposable razor! Microsoft became a trademark name. Have they really been around that long?

I hope you have enjoyed our look back to the year 1975. Who knows, maybe we can do this again in 40 years. Who then will believe that we ONLY paid $27,000 for that new car, or that stamps were less than $0.50? I’ll check back with you in 2055!

Sweet Sally and Grumpy Gus

Dear Sally and Gus,

I have a problem and don’t know what to do. Every year, my sister-in-law “Evelyn” invites us all over for Thanksgiving dinner. We all love her so much, and it is wonderful. She decorates, we play fun games, and she even has a kids play area all set up.

Dinner, however, is the problem. “Evelyn” is an AWFUL cook. The turkey is always burned. The potatoes are runny. The beans are mushy. And the pies...Oh, the pies! YUK! “Evelyn” never lets anyone bring anything claiming that this holiday is her gift to us.

What can we do?

Signed,
Perplexed

From Sweet Sally:

Dear Perplexed,

Oh, what a conundrum! I hope I can be of some help and comfort to you. As you do not want to insult this lovely lady, bringing side dishes seems to be out of the question. It looks as if your best bet is to eat a meal before you go, and enjoy the company. It is only once a year.

From Grumpy Gus:

Dear Perplexed,

Load up on rolls. And wine. Lots and lots of wine.

Dear Sally and Gus,

How do I get my neighbor to stop letting his dog “Buffy” do her “business” on my lawn? My green grass has yellow spots and brown piles!

Sincerely,
Frustrated

From Sweet Sally:

Dear Frustrated,

First of all, very kindly remind your neighbor to carry a small bag to clean up Buffy’s messes. You could even have a supply of baggies conveniently located on a hook on your mailbox or a tree. It might be helpful to move your garbage can closer to the baggie supply, too. Perhaps placing one of those cute little signs of a doggie going poo with a big red circle with a slash through it in your yard would help, too.

From Grumpy Gus:

Dear Frustrated,

One word: AIRHORN!
